SOLDIER BOYS ARE GRATEFUL TO RED CROSS ASSOCIATION

BELTRAMI BOYS WIRE THEIR APPRECIATION

Word Brainerd Linked With Hospitality Will be Carried to the Very Trenches in Europe

Brainerd Chapter Scores Big Success With Box Lunches for the Soldier Boy Contingents

BELTRAMI BOYS EXPRESS THANKS TO RED CROSS

St. Paul, Feb. 26, 1918.

Brainerd Dispatch,

Brainerd, Minn.

"We, the draft quota of Beltrami county, wish to express to the ladies of Crow Wing county Red Cross association our sincere appreciation of the noon-day lunch served us.

"Please express our thanks through the medium of your press."

Beltrami County Draft Quota.

The Beltrami boys numbering 121 passed through Brainerd Tuesday and were met at the depot by the Red Cross and other volunteers and given a noonday lunch and lunch boxes. On Friday the Aitkin county draft contingent was also fed.

In things like this the Red Cross is bringing the name of Brainerd to the grateful memory and attention of the soldier boys and the word Brainerd linked with hospitality will be carried to the very trench in France.

In days past the Red Cross was only associated with bandages and sweaters, but in Brainerd it has been given a still wider significance, being a kindly, motherly band of women who meet a hungry soldier boy with steaming hot coffee, sandwiches, etc.

It helps to make each boy passing through Brainerd a better fighter for his country for he knows the home folks, whether in Crow Wing county, Beltrami county, Aitkin county or any other county, are right there to back him up.

The Brainerd Chapter of the American Red Cross scored another big success in the box lunches which they furnished to soldiers on troop trains passing through Brainerd on Saturday and Tuesday and the efficient manner in which the ladies handled this, in connection with the big dinner given at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday, elicited many complimentary remarks from officials of the railroads and others.

On Saturday, at the same time the big dinner was being arranged at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, box lunches were distributed to 75 men enroute on a troop train which arrived at 11:45 A. M. with Aitkin and Walker soldiers aboard.

Tuesday, the Red Cross was again called upon to furnish box lunches for 97 soldiers enroute and at the eleventh hour, an additional 26 boxes were called for, the number of soldiers having been added to enroute. The ladies had very little time in which to meet this extra demand, in fact less than one-half hour. An "S. O. S." call was sent out to willing workers, with the result that the extra boxes were brought to the train in time before the departure of the boys.

Carl Wright had charge of the coffee for the soldiers on the trains both Saturday and Tuesday and was assisted by Dr. E. H. Hoorn, Harold Webb, R. D. Stitzel, F. S. Workman, Clyde Parker and others. The Boy Scouts also gave valuable assistance in this feature of the box lunch.

Liberal Donations.

The success of the big dinner Saturday and of the box lunches at the depot on that day and Tuesday was made possible by the splendid co-operation of the ladies who assisted in putting up boxes and in serving dinner at the Chamber of Commerce and a number of others, who kindly volunteered to make the expense of the dinner particularly small.

The Ransford hotel cooked the meat and potatoes and furnished extra dishes and utensils; Mrs. Ed Day donated 1½ bushels of potatoes, the same prepared for cooking; S. R. Adair furnished beans for the dinner; Dr. M. Clark & Co. the 1600 of dishes and utensils; the Brainerd Grocery company, three boxes of Tampa Sweep cigars; Johnson & Roth, baking beans, and delivering same to the Chamber of Commerce; ice cream, Mrs. Fred Parker and Mrs. W. Hemstead; flowers, P. A. Erickson, the Southeast Brainerd nurseryman, Victor Peterson of the Sixth street green house, and L. H. Hohman, the Sixth street stationer and florist; the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church, loan of dishes for the coffee at the troop trains; high school orchestra, music during the dinner, and the Brainerd Fruit company, two boxes of eating apples, and John Trautmann, depot lunch, making coffee for the troops on trains.

Work Praised

The number of boxes received for the lunches for men on the troop trains enroute was more than sufficient to supply the first quota on Saturday and the quick response Tuesday was such as to supply the 26 extra men on that train in very short order.

Brainerd people came in for many words of praise and the N. P. officials made the unqualified assertion that the men had not been treated better in any town en route and that the lunches and dinner had been handled in Brainerd the most successfully of any other city. It is probable that the Red Cross will be called upon soon to furnish more lunches, as other contingents pass through the city en route to the training camps.

Chairman Praised

After the dinner Saturday, it was a tired but well satisfied group of Red Cross workers who gathered around a table in the Chamber of Commerce rooms for coffee and lunch, the first they had eaten since an early breakfast and Mrs. J. A. Thabes, chairman, feelingly expressed her appreciation of the splendid work and support given her in making dinner and the box lunches at the depot such a great success.

A detailed statement of receipts and expenditures from the dinner and for the lunches will be made at the next meeting of the Red Cross and will then be made public. The officers wish to publicly express their appreciation of the efforts of all those who assisted in this great community success and to the local press for their splendid publicity assistance and to any and all who may have been overlooked in enumerating those who took an active part in the same.

Five American Soldiers Killed Fifty Suffering

(By United Press)

With the American Army in the Field, Feb. 27—Five American soldiers were killed and 50 are suffering terrible agonies of the first German gas attack against the American troops. The attack came early this morning after an all night's rain. The clouds had parted and the moon was shining brightly in the trenches when suddenly came a huge glare from the German trenches as the enemy guns were discharged. Following the attack the suffering were carried to the hospital, where their chests raised and lowered as they fought for breath following the gas attack. The doctors gave oxygen and they drank it through rubber tubes with a sigh of satisfaction for the temporary relief. Every American is aroused by this attack and the doctors who witnessed the terrible suffering of the men are deeply stirred against the boches.

61 Americans Gassed

With the American Army Afield, Feb. 27—In addition to the five killed 61 American soldiers are gas victims and are in the hospital following a night of horror.

Thirty Men Lost U. S. Naval Tug Cherokee Founders

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 27—Thirty men were probably lost when the United States naval tug Cherokee foundered off the Atlantic coast yesterday. Secretary Daniels announced that the bodies of four of the dead had reached Philadelphia. Ten officers and 35 enlisted men are known to have been on the vessel, and ten survivors are known to have landed. Details are lacking.

Congress Wants Criminal Waste Done Away With

BY GEORGE MARTIN,
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

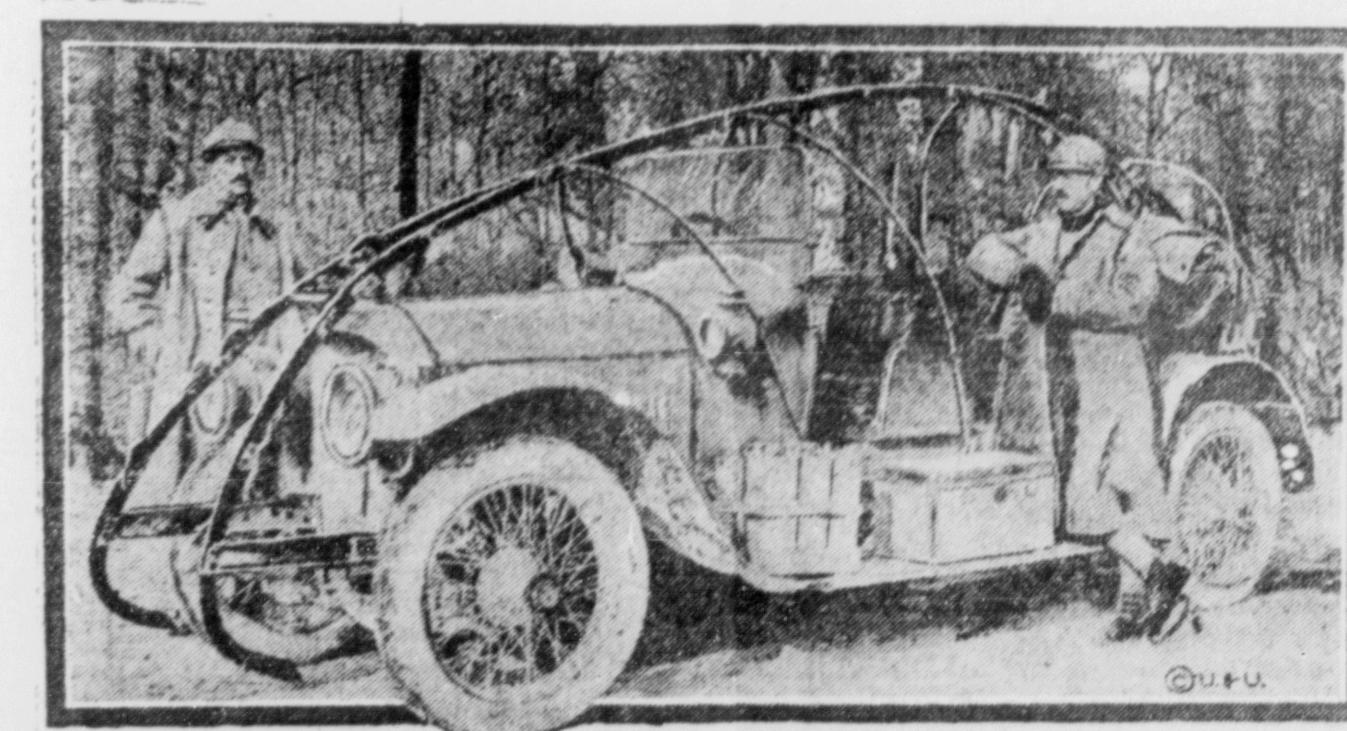

Washington, Feb. 27—Congress is worried about money and wants what the legislators call criminal waste eliminated from the war departments. "Millions for defense but not one cent for waste," is the slogan Senator King wants adopted, who also proposes a bill to standardize government salaries stating that many men are receiving $6,000 annually who could not earn $1,500 elsewhere.

German Auto to Cut Barbed Wire Entanglements Taken by French

This is only another illustration of how carefully the Germans prepare for the war. The auto with a steel frame running over it is used to cut barbed wire entanglements in "No Man's Land" where they interfere with assaults over the trenches by their troops. The parts of the steel frame are so sharpened that they cut the wire quickly and leave way for the soldiers to follow without injury.

Lyndon A. Smith Is Near Death as Result of Apoplexy Stroke

LYNDON A. SMITH.

Lyndon A. Smith, attorney general of Minnesota since 1912, is near death at his home in St. Paul as the result of a stroke of apoplexy.

Mr. Smith is 64 years old, and because of his age physicians fear he will not recover. All day Monday Mr. Smith was at his duties at the state capitol. Returning to his home he was supper with Mrs. Smith. Shortly after rising from the table he was stricken without warning.

Dr. G. E. Senkler, the family physician, was called. He said that even if Mr. Smith should recover he would be incapacitated for further duties.

Mr. Smith has one daughter, Mrs. Lacey McClintock, now on a visit to Wichita, Kan., visiting relatives. Her husband is a Lieutenant in Pershing's army in France. They have one child. For years before becoming attorney general Mr. Smith was an assistant in that office. Prior to that he practised law in Montevideo, Minn.

Washington, Feb. 27—The United States has launched an international campaign to teach the neutrals the need of food conservation to avert a world famine.

German Raids Are Repulsed

Paris, Feb. 27—An official bulletin says two strong German raids were repulsed in the Chemin des Dames region where the American troops are aiding the French. In the Champs Elysees district the Germans twice attempted raids after violent bombardments near Dumesnil where the American artillery is located, but were thrown back.

Germans Are Seeking to Occupy Vitebsk First Defense Stand

BY JOSEPH SHAPLIN,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Petrograd, Feb. 27—The Germans were hurled back at Vitebsk and are 18 miles from Orsha. After fortifying Borisoff the Germans advanced toward Orsha and the Russians made a sortie beating back the Germans, then retiring upon the city the Russians blew up the bridge over the Berezina where Napoleon suffered heavy losses in November, 1812.

The Germans were seeking to occupy Vitebsk where the first stand for the defense of Petrograd was made, but were thrown back. The German forces advancing upon Petrograd were informed that the Russians had accepted the peace offer and asked a German officer of high command for instructions. The reply came back: "The advance must continue."

The Germans are apparently determined to occupy Petrograd. Enthusiasm among the Russians for the defense grows hourly and a constant stream of armed men for the front are passing. The battle for the possession of Pskov was won by the Russians. The show tonight will certainly set the standard for affairs of this kind. It will be far from an amateurish show. Those who are looking for a bunch of blunders and mistakes will go away disappointed. Every musical number and every bit of the play has been given a careful detailed last rehearsal and from curtain to curtain it will surely "go over" big.

Another feature of more than ordinary interest will be the acceptance of the city service flag by Mayor R. A. Beise. Rev. Stacey will make the proffering address after the first act and for the city it will be dedicated and hung across a prominent street.

Hospital Ship Sunk in Channel No Patients On

BY UNITED PRESS

London, Feb. 27—An American destroyer brought in the survivors of the hospital ship Glenart Castle, sunk in the Bristol channel yesterday. The British admiralty announced that the ship was out bound with lights burning, but that no patients were aboard. There are eight boats with survivors still aboard.

Hertling Insincere Washington Belief

BY CARL D. GROAT,
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Washington, Feb. 28—President Wilson is waiting upon Czernin's expected reply to his "Wilson's" last peace message before again addressing congress, which he may do if Czernin's reply is conciliatory. It is generally believed here that Chancellor von Hertling's speech is due for rejection as the belief expressed is that he is insincere.

Colonel In Full Accord With Party, Says Hays.

Pays Visit To Roosevelt In Hospital After Which He Makes Statement.

New York, Feb. 27—W. M. Hays, the new chairman of the Republican committee, has made the announcement that Colonel Roosevelt "is with the Republican party," after spending an hour with the former president in Roosevelt's hospital.

Hays said they found themselves in full accord on social and economic questions and war questions affecting politics.

Colonel Roosevelt, he added, was taking hold of public problems with his old time vigor. Mr. Hays later spent some time with Charles E. Hughes.

"I am not at liberty to state what either Colonel Roosevelt or Justice Hughes said to me personally," said Mr. Hays. "I can say, however, that it was all agreeable."

"I was unable to see former President Taft, but I am arranging an appointment to see him later at New Haven. He sent me a most cordial telegram."

When asked whether Roosevelt, if a candidate, would be regarded by the committee exactly the same as any other candidate, Hays responded: "Absolutely, yes."

This was regarded as official confirmation of the report that the colonel was again a fully recognized member of the Republican party.

WILL SERVE NATIVE DAINTY

Young Ladies Will be Dressed in Oriental Costume and the Occasion is of Much Interest

The Women's Missionary society of the Methodist church will present a program of special interest on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlors. The first hour the Home Society will give a program on the subject of "Missionary Milestones." The Foreign program will be entirely presented by the young ladies of the "True Blue" and "Perseverance" classes of the Sunday school. These eighteen young ladies will be dressed in oriental costume. A native dainty will be served. An offering will be taken for the work of this society. All ladies are invited to come and enjoy the afternoon.

Methodist Church Tonight

There will be a stereopticon lecture tonight at the Methodist church at 8 o'clock. 75 colored slides will be shown on the screen.

A visit to China, India, Japan and Korea will be given by Rev. James A. Geer of Princeton. No admission will be charged but a silver offering is requested for expenses.

This noted lecture is very interesting and educational and is appropriate for old and young folks. The members of the church, Sunday school, Young Peoples society and friends are especially requested to come as this will be a most enjoyable evening.

Burning Water.

Particularly pat, at a time when the shortage of coal has required many emergency regulations of business, is the announcement that a chemist has found a way in which it will, it is claimed, be commercially profitable to use water as fuel. A man who saw the process exemplified describes it to the Christian Science Monitor in these words: "I have seen water burning. I have seen water streaming into a flame of blazing oil, and, instead of putting out the fire, it made the flame rear upward and develop a temperature of 2,000 degrees Fahrenheit, enough to melt copper." It should be said that the water alone will not burn now any more than in the past, but, combined with equal parts of any oil that will flow freely, it becomes excellent fuel. This is the way the observer explains the process technically: "The combustion of water is based upon the fact that when a fine stream of water is put through an intensely hot metal coil, it is not only turned into vapor, but the water molecules are split up into their constituent elements, oxygen and hydrogen."

MABEL NORMAND'S MOST GLITTERING PLAY.

Never before in Miss Normand's screen experience has she been fitted with a vehicle that so fully displays every facet of her remarkable acting ability, or that has provided so admirable a setting for her youthful beauty and charms as "Dodging a Million," by Edgar Selwyn and A. M. Kennedy. At the Best Monday and Tuesday.

"Bird of Paradise"

Miss Marion Hutchins, who appears as "Luana" in Oliver Morosco's "The Bird of Paradise," was born in Boston and graduated from Emerson College in 1909. Since then she has played a number of important roles, notably in "The Common Law," "Within the Law," "The Yellow Ticket," and with John Mason in "Common Clay."

Miss Hutchins is a protege of the late William Harris of the theatrical firm of Frohman, Rich & Harris, operating theatres extensively in the east. Although not a blood relation she was considered one of the Harris family.

When quite young Miss Hutchins was given the nickname of "Shups" by Mr. Harris. Asked regarding the whyfor for this the young actress said: "They say I was a fresh youngster. Mr. Harris used to tease me until I would become real angry. I would try to tell him to 'shut up' but the words wouldn't come. Instead the exclamation sounded like 'shups' which at first they couldn't make out. When they did it created considerable laughter and, do you know that to this day a great many of my friends call me 'shups'."

Miss Hutchins is of medium height, lithe and graceful. She is temperamental and ambitious. She is declared by Mr. Morosco to be the perfect type of "Luana" as created in "The Bird of Paradise" by Richard Walton Tully, the author. Furthermore, she claims that "Luana" is the sort of a part she has always longed to play.

CHASER ADRIFT 39 DAYS

Encounters Severe Storms, but Reaches Port Safely.

American Built Boat Manned by French Successfully Outrider Mid-Atlantic Gale.

Washington, Feb. 27.—An American built submarine chaser, left alone and helpless in mid-ocean when her engines became disabled in a terrible gale, has reached the other side of the Atlantic after being at the mercy of the seas 39 days. Secretary Daniels has made this announcement.

The chaser had been turned over to the French government and was manned by a French crew.

The safe navigation of the tiny craft into port is officially recognized as one of the most remarkable naval achievements of the war.

The feat was accomplished by rigging up a sail from bed coverings. A compass was the only navigating instrument on board the vessel. The commander of the crew was forced to estimate his positions. Shortage of rations aggravated the hardships before port was reached.

The chaser and other units of the convoy were overtaken by storm on January 15. The little boat became separated from her fleet as a result of her engines breaking down. A report that the chaser was missing was the only word of her received until now. Full credit was given to the French crew, but the fact that a 110-foot craft, helpless and adrift, could successfully ride out a terrible mid-Atlantic gale leaves nothing to be said in behalf of the American builders.

MEXICANS SHOOT SOLDIER

Snipers Hit Member of Cavalry Border Patrol.

El Paso, Tex., Feb. 27.—A soldier of the United States cavalry border patrol was shot through the arm while patrolling the border near San Elizario, 30 miles southeast of here. The soldier was riding with a comrade when two Mexicans opened fire. Captain Joseph N. Marx, commander of the border patrol in the city, was shot in the right leg previously by Mexicans. The soldier shot was Private William T. Coleman. Both men returned the fire when the Mexicans first fired on them, but Coleman was hit and the two Americans were forced to retire when six more Mexicans joined the first two snipers.

LOOKING OVER DISTRICT

(Bemidji Pioneer)

Mark Woolley of Park Rapids, county attorney of Hubbard county, was in Bemidji today greeting friends, meeting the people of Bemidji in general, and looking over the political situation regards his candidacy for congress as an opponent of Congressman Harold Knutson.

Mr. Woolley was chosen to make the race in the Sixth, at the district meeting recently held in Brainerd, against Knutson.

The Hubbard county representative is a republican, backed by a large number of democrats of the district. The district is overwhelmingly republican and it is the intent of the democrats to throw their support of the nominee, Mr. Woolley is receiving hearty recognition from leaders of both democrats and republicans throughout the district and a hard campaign is to be made in his behalf.

WHY THE WORKMEN COMPLAIN

Feel That Certain Few Are Getting Big Money Out of Government Work, but Revenue Law Will Take Care of That.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Congress is looking for the genius who will find some method to upset the law of supply and demand; some Aladdin whose magic lamp will keep a low level on prices when war makes commodities scarce and the government is in such need of them as to make it bid high for all it buys. We have congressmen who believe that legislation will remedy the evil of high prices, especially if decrees are passed forbidding the payment of more than such prices as are fixed by law.

At the bottom of the labor troubles is found the dissatisfaction of workmen because they do not receive in private employment the wages which are paid by contractors who get the ten per cent commission on government work. Some of the workingmen also complain that "big money" is going into the hands of a few who are getting rich out of the war and that the laborers are not getting anywhere near their share.

Complaints about "prolifteers" and the criticisms heard in the congressional debates are a part of the unfortunate conditions which happen when a peaceful people go to war. Peaceful people such as ours never have a war problem. The demand for war materials and supplies has created unprecedented conditions. Men who have the commodities which the government needs take advantage of the situation and make money. That is why so much money has to be appropriated by congress.

But those who are making these complaints should remember that all the war profits will not remain with the "prolifteers." The revenue law with its excess profits tax and its income tax will get some of the money back into the treasury.

In the effort to raise more crops the agricultural department has been giving a great deal of attention to farm labor. One thing it is doing in this line is to show the farmer how to keep men on the farm. Investigation has proved that life is not very attractive to the average farm laborer. The work is quite hard, and when his day's work is done his position is that of a stranger on the farm. He is not a part of the farmer's family and he lacks the social existence that is necessary to mankind. Several farmers have written the agricultural department that the way they keep their farmhands is to build a small house on a plot of ground which is suitable for garden purposes, and allow the farmhand to have a home life with his wife and children, his garden, his chickens and pigs; in other words, to "root him to the soil." A good farmhand thus located is not likely to be drawn away, even by the most alluring stories of high wages in other industries and other walks of life.

contented. Discontent in the camps would be the very worst thing that could happen, and there is nothing like entertainment and amusement to add to the contentment of the men. Long ago the navy found that it was necessary to entertain the sailors and for years every battleship has had entertainments of various kinds, including the best moving picture shows. The commission is reaching out into every section of the country, and with decided success.

It is interesting to note the indifference of many American citizens qualified to vote for their lawmakers, who apparently do not care who goes to congress as their representative. The small number of actual voters in proportion to the population of a district is very noticeable in the eastern part of the country, and particularly in the Southeastern states. In one district in Georgia where the population is in excess of 245,000 only 13,801 votes were cast during the last congressional election. In a Virginia district the vote totaled 15,829 out of a population of nearly 200,000.

HALF BATHROBES.

Two women were shopping in a Washington street department store. One stopped in front of a price card which read, "Half—Bathrobes."

"Well, what do you think of that?" she said to her companion. "Half bathrobes! Wonder if they cut them in two?"

"Well, if they do I don't want them. A whole one for me every time," replied the other woman.

PREDICTS GERMAN REVOLT

Reichstag Member Greeted With Cheers and Jeers.

Amsterdam, Feb. 25.—A revolution in Germany was predicted by Dr. Cohn, independent Socialist deputy, in an address to the Reichstag, the Voeks Zeitung of Cologne says.

"It is not correct to say that the people of Russia's Baltic provinces are longing for German rule," he declared.

"The treaty with Ukraine is not the first step toward general peace. I see the day coming when revolution will reach Germany, and the people will take the fate of their rulers into their own hands."

The independent Socialists cheered the speaker. From other parts of the house came shouts of "traitor."

There are numerous indications in Germany of a very systematic campaign to promote a new general strike, says a Berlin dispatch to the Welt Zeitung of Bremen.

WOMEN'S HIGH BOOTS TABOOED.

London, Feb. 25.—High boots must be abandoned to help win the war. This is the new order for women, Lord Calthorpe Hamilton drew attention in the House of Commons to the continued fashion, which in the present scarcity of leather, diminishes the amount available for footwear for the poor. Mr. H. W. Forster replied that the war department, acting in consultation with the board of trade, has decided to issue an order prohibiting the manufacture of boots for women with uppers over a certain height.

PEACE DRIVE ON ALLIES IS BEGUN

GERMAN ATTEMPT TO SPLIT ENTENTE
NATIONS SUSPECTED BY INTERNATIONAL EXPERTS.

WILSON STUDIES TALK

GIVES NO INDICATION HOW HERTLING TALK IS REGARDED—Kaiser APPARENTLY BELIEVES ALLIES WILL NOT FIGHT FOR RUSSIAN INTERESTS.

Washington, Feb. 27.—"No change" in the prospects for peace has been effected by Chancellor von Hertling's acceptance of President Wilson's four abstract and general terms on which the war may be ended.

The President's requirements for a responsible German government as a necessary precedent to peace discussions stands impregnably buttressed by the development of German duplicity in Russia during the last few days and by Hertling's references to Belgium.

These are the only official intimations of how the administration has received the German chancellor's speech. It is probable that the President himself will discuss them shortly.

MAKING NEW PEACE DRIVE.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Germany is making a new peace drive, now that she has bagged a goodly section of Russia.

That was the meaning international experts placed on the conciliatory tone adopted by Count von Hertling in his reply to President Wilson's peace terms.

Further, some of the experts saw an effort by Count von Hertling to split the Allies, relying on them to have differing views as to the siding with President Wilson in his four cardinal bases for peace discussion.

The chancellor's acceptance of the four principles was regarded as indicating his belief a peace table discussion would not baffle over Russia long, if French, Belgian, Italian and some Balkan questions could be adjusted.

RUSSIA WARNED.

In fact, it was felt that Count von Hertling's move harked back to Lloyd George's initial war aims speech, in which he practically cast Russia adrift, warning her she would be left to her fate at German hands if she continued in her peace course.

Well informed Englishmen in this country have said recently that they doubt England would fight on long to wrest Russian territory from a Tewton grip, even through German retention of it was a strong step toward formidable strengthening of German domination.

Further, Italian foreign minister Sonino's newspaper intimated after Premier Lloyd George's speech there might be little in the way of peace if Germany restored Belgium, withdrew from northern France, gave Italy Trent and Triest, and did her ex-panding in Russia.

TWO U. S. AIRMEN LOSE LIVES

DEATH RESULTS WHEN MACHINES MEET 1,000 FEET IN AIR.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 27.—William J. Weissinger of Buena Vista, Miss., a cadet, was killed and William C. Story of Freeport, N. Y., also a cadet, was fatally injured when the air planes in which the men were making solo flights at Park Field, near Memphis, collided and fell a distance of about 1,000 feet. Story died later in a field hospital.

Weissinger was employed by news papers here and in Chicago as a reporter before going to Washington several years ago with a news agency. He entered the officers' training camp at Fort Myer, Va., obtaining a commission as lieutenant of cavalry, and later was transferred to the flying section of the signal corps.

IS UP TO AMERICAN FARMER

IF HE PRODUCES AS WELL AS LAST YEAR
FOOD SITUATION IS O. K.

Washington, Feb. 27.—The American farmer accomplished a great achievement last year. If he repeats it this year—and there is every indication that he will—there will be no shortage of food either for the United States or for her Allies.

This was the summary of the crop and food situation given by Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture after a cabinet meeting. He is optimistic about the farm labor situation of the coming year. He says the President's fixing of the wheat price for the coming harvest should settle the whole situation.

WANT ARMY CO-OPERATION.

Minneapolis, Feb. 27.—Dr. H. M. Bracken, executive officer of the state board of health, has gone to Washington to apply to the surgeon general for an order requiring commanders of military camps and cantonments to report to the health board all cases of men discharged from service for physical reasons and returned to Minnesota. The purpose, Dr. Bracken explained, is to enable the new state hygiene commission to follow up cases of venereal disease and other similar diseases to watch tuberculosis cases.

NEW PLAN TO REDUCE H. C. OF L.

D. D. Schrader, Life Insurance Man, Interviewing Game & Fish and Public Safety Bodies

SPORTSMEN TO AID IN THE PLAN

Bullheads, Suckers, Pickerel to be Caught and Distributed at Little or No Cost

D. D. Schrader, an insurance man of Brainerd, has gone to St. Paul to interest the game and fish commission and public safety commission in a method to gain for food large quantities of fish usually wasted.

His plan is to have permits granted to sportsmen who without charge will secure bullheads and suckers and pear pickerel for the purpose of turning over the fish to the state, the latter to distribute them at little or no cost, to communities where needed.

Mr. Schrader stated that loads of suckers were thrown away at northern lakes. These fish if cleaned and smoked, make a most palatable articles of food and their very cheapness would tend to reduce the high cost of living for many people. Their use as food would mean the saving of tons of fish now wasted.

Brainerd Boy Writes He Received Sweater, Helmet, Wristlets and Socks

Mrs. C. Gronquist has received a letter from her son, Albin Gronquist, Co. B 7th U. S. Engineers, at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, saying that he had received a sweater, helmet, wristlets and many pairs of socks from the Red Cross, all for nothing, he did not have to pay one cent for any of it, which goes to prove that some of these stories about the Red Cross charging for things is not true. He said he appreciated the articles and thanked the Red Cross for the same.

WOES OF DELIVERYMAN

Small Orders Which Necessitated Maintaining an Expensive Delivery System

Grocery deliverymen have some prize stories to tell of work done to oblige some customers.

At 8 o'clock in the morning, so the story goes, a lady ordered a yeast cake and a pint of cream, the yeast cake for immediate delivery and the cream for 11 o'clock, as she wanted it fresh at that hour.

"And when you bring the cream," she telephoned, "I shall give you my order for dinner."

Another lady, it is reported, drove to a meat market in her car and bought a half-pound of dry-chipped beef and ordered it delivered. The butcher deliveryman, with a keen sense of humor, rushed his car to the house, met the lady as she stepped from her car and there delivered her the purchase she had made.

JOYS OF COOKING

Andrew C. Anderson Cooking for the Soldiers at Camp Pike, Ark., Tells Experiences

In a letter to his sister, Miss Rose Anderson, Andrew C. Anderson tells of experiences in cooking for the 87th Division of the National Army at Camp Pike, Arkansas.

The other morning he got breakfast alone for 200 men. He served toasted bread, grape nuts, potatoes, syrup, bread, coffee. He used 24 loaves of bread for toast, 40 pounds potatoes, eight pounds of coffee, 15 pounds of sugar and four dozens of eggs. Butter is not often served the company and then they get just a small piece.

The morning the company ate scrambled eggs, it took twenty dozen for 200 men. A recent dinner menu included roast pork, sweet potatoes, apple sauce, cake, ice cream.

The boys all expect to go to France soon.

JAP RAILWAYS ARE DESCRIBED

T. H. Lantry in Russian Railway Service Corps Covered 2,000 Miles of Their Lines

ARE ALL GOVERNMENT OWNED

All Railway Work Permanent. Have No Train Dispatchers, All Employees are Uniformed

RUSSIAN RAILWAY SERVICE CORPS

Nagasaki, Jan. 25, 1918

My dear Mr. Nichols:

Since writing you there has been no change in our lineup except that we left the ship and are now quartered in hotels at Nagasaki awaiting instructions. We have not the slightest idea as to when or what our next move will be. Colonel Emerson left this morning to meet Mr. Stevens, they are going to Harbin and possibly into Russia. It may be on their return that we will have some information or lineup as to what we are going to do. It may seem strange, but nevertheless it is a fact that we know less of the true situation in Russia than you do at home. The newspaper reports which we receive are badly mixed up, the people whom we meet coming from Russia all have a different story. It is of course natural that people leaving the country on account of the conditions will have some personal feeling and give their own case as being the general condition. This may be true and on the other hand it may not be.

Colonel R. D. Hawkins, Major B. O. Johnson and myself made a week's trip on the Japanese railways going as far as Tokyo and making several stops. We covered about two thousand miles of their line and we were agreeably surprised in what we found as to the general condition. While it is no doubt a truthful saying that railways are never finished, we think the railways in Japan are as nearly finished as is possible and much more nearly so than any we have ever seen. Every bit of work that they do, whether it be on branch lines or main line, is permanent. The road is all well blasted with good clean gravel and crushed rock, power and equipment is in first-class condition. Locomotives are kept perfectly clean and there is not a piece of material of any kind or any grass or dirt on the right-of-way. They have fine station layouts and in the larger cities such as Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and Osaka they have fine station buildings, the best of course being at Tokyo, the capital. We were shown through the private waiting rooms of the Imperial Family in that building and they are very gorgeous. They have miles and miles of rip-rapping of dry masonry work, some of it has been in place for over thirty years and is now as good as the day it was laid. The drainage ditches are laid with stone, sliding cuts are faced with dry wall masonry, tunnels are all of two bore, one for each track, brick lined with portals faced with stone and the same as the ditches, well drained. On high fills they plant a tough grass which overcomes any running off of material with the result that the fills are as perfect as the day they were made. On double track left hand operation is used. They have locomotives built in America, Germany, England and Japan. Those built in Japan are of left-hand, i.e., the engineer is on the left-hand side. This is on account of signals on double and single track being on the left-hand side. They have no train dispatchers. The same system as is in use in England and Russia being used for movement of trains, i.e., stationmasters dispatch trains from station to station by the use of the staff. The blocking is absolute and a train having the staff can go either way. During our entire trip every train we traveled on was on time and if you make inquiry at a station as to a train being on time, it is considered rather a foolish question as they are always on time. Side-tracks are close together averaging two and one-half miles and every sidetrack has a day and a night station force. The station forces work twenty-four hours continuously and are then off for twenty-four hours. Conductors are called Guards. Salaries are very low, engineers and conductors average 50 yen per month, firemen, brakemen and stationmasters 30 yen; station help 20 yen, a yen being equal to our fifty cents. Track, roundhouse and other labor average 60 Sen per day, a Sen being equal to one half-cent. All employees are of course in the war department as the railways are government owned and every employee is uniformed, even the laborers. All except common laborers are furnished one uniform per year by the railway and laborers buy their own. Stationmasters and guards uniforms cost 12 yen or $6.00 each. Engines of freight trains are rated on a car basis and they have no system of tonnage; forty cars is the maximum down mountains and twenty cars at all other points. The largest Mallett engines they have are of about 51,000 pounds tractive effort, and their consolidation engines about 30,000 pounds tractive effort. There are three classes of passenger cars, first, second and third, but very little first-class travel. Passenger and freight rates are made up from zones the rates being the same for the first 50 miles, the next 100 miles, the next 200, the next 300 and the next 400 miles and all over. In other words you can travel for the same fare to a point 800 miles as to one 400 miles. All stations are equipped with gates for passengers who must show ticket before entering train as no ticket collections are made on the train. When leaving the train passengers are required to pass out of a gate, and tickets are taken up by station master. There is no such thing as paying fare on the train. Stations are not called in passenger trains but on stopping at a station members of the station force pass along the side of the cars on the platform and call out the name of the station. Station stops are not as long as in the United States baggage is all handled in and out of the cars through the windows and never through the doors. They have a large force at each station whose duty it is to take the baggage out of the window. At the larger stations they provide on the platform what they call a toilet and which means a wash room. These are all open, equipped with brass wash basins, hot and cold water and passengers furnish their own soap and towels. When trains stop at these principal stations the passengers rush to these toilets and wash up. You will notice this especially the first stop after a night run. We traveled part of the way on their train deluxe which has eight cars and makes but few stops, has an observation car, full sized dining car and first and second class sleepers, the first-class being compartment cars. All of the sleeping car berths are single, a little too small for a large man but very comfortable. In switching or giving signals a green and a red flag is used by day and a green and a red lantern by night. When the green is waving or moving the engine moves; immediately on display of the red they stop. This requires every switchman to carry two flags in the day time and a combination lantern showing red on one side and green on the other at night.

We saw but one coal dock and this was very similar to our Great Northern type. At all other coaling stations the work is done by carrying the coal in small baskets which hold about twenty pounds. In doing track work everything is systematized even to tamping for which they use a tamping pick. Section crews are all of an even number of men, usually six; one man does the singing and every man's pick must hit the beat at the same time. Rails are all laid with square joints. At every station they have a platform on each track where double tracked, and where they have a single track there is a platform passing siding so there is no such thing as passengers crossing tracks. In fact it is a violation of the law which is rigidly enforced, to walk on or to cross over tracks. Where necessary overhead or under-grade crossings lead from the main station building to the opposite track.

In discipline everything is handled the same as with the army. Violations of rules or instructions are punished first by dismissal from the service and then the department of justice steps in, the man is given a court martial and if they find him guilty he is given a penitentiary sentence. We learned of a case of an assistant stationmaster "who was intoxicated," driving a train a staff while there was a train ahead in the block. A collision resulted, one or two employees killed and the assistant stationmaster was given five years in the penitentiary. The result of this discipline is a very close observance of the rules and instructions and it makes it unnecessary to have traveling engineers or trainmasters, auditors, inspectors, etc., as a man's duty is all covered by instructions and he realizes that unless he performs his duty he will be taken to task by the court. They have division superintendents and master mechanics. Sizing up the entire railroad, including its operation, we think it is excellent. They handle a very heavy business and the people are well satisfied. Congress recently appropriated four hundred million yen or two hundred million dollars for new lines to be built within the next ten years. All of the railway officials want to start standardizing their gauge as soon as it can be done and I would not be surprised to see this started shortly after the close of the war.

Mr. M. S. Montgomery, traveling engineer from the Minnesota Division has been more or less under the weather since we left San Francisco. We are arranging for him to return to America on sick leave until he fully recovers, when he is to come back with us. He will leave here in a few days and will probably be in St. Paul about in 60 days. Cannot tell you how anxious we are to hear from home and particularly as to railroad news. The question of taking over the railways has made us more anxious than ever to hear from you. We all wish to be remembered to everyone and are only sorry that we cannot tell you of some work we have accomplished in doing our bit as so far we feel that we have done absolutely nothing at all.

I hope that Alan is all right and am presuming that he is in France. With regards to all, beg to remain,

Yours truly,

T. H. LANTRY.

Worst Winter in Years.

Snow, wind and extreme cold caused more colds this winter than in years. Foley's Honey and Tar proved its worth in thousands of homes. Mrs. Edward Stryv, R. 37, Clinton, O., says: "I think Foley's Honey and Tar is the only medicine for coughs and colds and recommend it highly." Fine for children. H. P. Dunn, druggist.

SLAVS PLAN TO LEAVE CAPITAL

Germans Refuse Russian Plea for Armistice and Continue Advance on Petrograd.

RESISTANCE STIFFENS

Advises Say Soviet Army Is Everywhere Resisting Invaders—People Called on to Defend Capital.

Petrograd, Feb. 27.—An official statement, just issued, says: "Germany has formally refused to grant an armistice and German detachments continue to advance. Resistance thus becomes the principal task of the revolution."

"Russia's greatest strength lies in her wide territory, and the government can, and if need be, will retreat. If the threat against Petrograd increases, the government will remove to Moscow or another city."

Defense Stiffening.

London, Feb. 27.—A Petrograd dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company, says:

"That resistance to the German advance is growing is shown by the reports of fighting which continues in the vicinity of Pskov. This town has changed hands several times. The German detachments which first entered Pskov were very small, but they have since been reinforced."

"There is a general belief that the Germans are moving forward hastily because supplies of ammunition worth 400,000,000 rubles are concentrated in the neighborhood of Pskov. The Russians, however, are taking measures to guard the railway and are sending more Soviet troops to Pskov."

Soviet Armies Resist Invaders.

Later advices say that the Soviet armies are now everywhere resisting the invaders. At Narva, the garrison and workmen have formed an army of 10,000 and gone to Revel. There are similar reports from Walk. Great activity is manifested at Bolshevik headquarters in Petrograd and arms and ammunition are being distributed.

An official proclamation issued calling upon the people to defend the capital, says:

"In spite of the fact that the government has accepted the peace conditions imposed by the German and Austrian governments, the imperialistic assassins are, nevertheless, continuing their monstrous advance into the inner part of Russia. The cursed minions of William and the German Kaledines, together with the White Guards, are advancing again and shooting the Soviets, reconstituting the power of the landlords, bankers and capitalists and preparing for the restoration of the monarchy."

Urge All To Mobilize.

"The revolution is in peril. A moral blow will be struck against Red Petrograd. If you workers, soldiers and peasants wish to retain power, and the power of the Soviets, you must fight these hordes, who now are seeking to devour you to your last gasp."

The decisive hour has struck.

Workers and all oppressed men and women! You must swell the ranks of the Red battalions. To arms all of you, that the struggle may only cease with your last breath."

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Petrograd reports that there has been a disagreement in the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates regarding the evacuation of Petrograd, and that the retirement of Leon Trotsky, Bolshevik foreign minister, is imminent.

TROOPS QUELL OUTBREAK

English Soldiers Are Sent to County Clare, Ireland.

London, Feb. 27.—The outbreak of lawlessness in County Clare, Ireland, it is announced officially, rendered necessary the sending of additional troops to the county to assist the police. County Clare has been declared a special area under the defense of the realm act.

Declaration of a special area under the defense of the realm act is tantamount to a declaration of martial law.

Lawlessness is reported spreading. Telegraph wires have been cut and trees are thrown across the roads to hinder the movements of troops and police. Farms are being seized in the name of the Irish republic.

Overman Bill Endorsed.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Indorsement of the Overman bill, giving the President full powers to centralize war control and eliminate "red tape" in the various departments, has been recommended by the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Taft in Labor Conference.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Former President W. H. Taft has been chosen by the five representatives of capital as their representative for the public in the joint conferences here between employers and employees to establish a basis for relations during the war. The five workers' representatives also will name a man to represent the public. A national labor policy, planned for the duration of the war and backed, if necessary, by special legislation, is being considered by representatives of capital and labor, who continued the conferences arranged at the request of the government. The opening session was given over to organization. Secretary W. B. Wilson told the delegates it was necessary to reach an agreement to prevent strikes and to assure a maximum production to maintain American forces in France.

KILL 3 SAMMIES IN GAS ATTACK

Germans Make Two Formidable Assaults on American Positions in Toul Sector.

NINE BADLY "GASSED"

Enemy Also Bombs American Batteries, But Without Result—Quick Action of U. S. Troops Prevents More Casualties.

With the American Army in France, Feb. 27.—In two formidable gas attacks made by the Germans on the American positions in the Toul sector with projectors three American soldiers were killed and nine badly gassed.

The enemy also heavily bombarded the American batteries with gas shells, but without result.

Only the excellent preparatory training in quickness by the American troops prevented the projector attacks, the first experienced by them, from causing more casualties.

The attacks were made within 10 minutes of each other and were directed at a certain wood. Seventy-five eight-inch shells of 80 per cent gas and 20 high explosive shells were fired from German minenwerfers.

Gas Caught Men Asleep.

The flight of the projectiles was traced through the air, the gas shells bursting in the air and the high explosives detonating when they came in contact with the earth. Large fragments of shells flew from both missiles.

The gas caught some of the men before they were able to adjust their masks and overcome others while they were asleep in dugouts.

The American artillery retaliated against the German artillery which had been shelling them but which, notwithstanding the intensity of the fire, did no damage and wounded only one man.

Fighting in Air.

The Americans began by shelling Montsec, where buildings were destroyed. They also effectively shot up a large working party in a dugout from which cries for help were heard. The enemy concentrated his fire on a certain town within the American lines.

The weather had cleared and there was much aerial activity. Several flights in the air occurred over and behind the American line, and in addition the American anti-aircraft guns were firing all day long. Enemy planes attacked a sausage balloon in which an American captain was acting as observer. The balloon was hauled down hurriedly without having been damaged.

English Repulse Germans.

London, Feb. 27.—Field Marshal Haig has reported the repulse of a German raid south of the Cambrai-Arras road. On the Franco-German front there was violent gunfire on the right bank of the Meuse (Verdon) and in the region of Bapaume.

French Praise Americans.

Washington, Feb. 27.—An official French dispatch said that the recent Franco-American raid in the Chemin des Dames took place at Chevregny and that the two American officers and 24 soldiers who were chosen after the entire battalion had volunteered for service "gave proof of a spirit equal to that of the French troops."

GERMAN SEA RAIDER ASHORE

Two Yankees and Nine Women Prisoners—Epidemic on Board.

Copenhagen, Feb. 27.—The Spanish steamship Igout Mendil with a German crew from the Pacific ocean on board is ashore near the Skaw light-house.

The prisoners on the Igout Mendil were taken from ships which had been sunk. Several of the prisoners had been aboard the vessel for eight months while she cruised in the Pacific ocean.

Twenty-two persons, including nine women, two children and two Americans, have been landed by a lifeboat from the Skaw.

The Danish authorities have informed the German commander of the ship. The German prize crew refused to leave ship.

Overman Bill Endorsed.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Indorsement of the Overman bill, giving the President full powers to centralize war control and eliminate "red tape" in the various departments, has been recommended by the board of directors of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

National Labor Party Considered.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Former President W. H. Taft has been chosen by the five representatives of capital as their representative for the public in the joint conferences here between employers and employees to establish a basis for relations during the war. The five workers' representatives also will name a man to represent the public. of Proclamation and Order No. 25 of the Minnesota Commission for Public Safety, wherein February 25th, 26th and 27th, 1918 are designated as throughout the entire State of Minnesota and orders as follows:

1st. That every alien shall register on one of the above dates and make sworn declarations as to real estate and personal property holdings as prescribed by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety.

2nd. Each City Clerk shall provide necessary and suitable places for registration of aliens.

3d. Each City Clerk shall cause general and widespread publicity for the dates and purposes of the said registration days.

4th. Each Clerk of Registration who may be selected by the City Clerk is hereby deputed as his agent by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety to administer the oath appearing on the registration blanks.

5th. Any alien resident of the State of Minnesota who fails to register on one of the above designated registration days will be informed or subjected to other action which the Minnesota Commission for Public Safety will prescribe.

6th. Provided, however, that no aliens registered under the Department of Justice, and who owe allegiance to the German Imperial Government need register.

7th. The Minnesota Commission of Public Safety requests that election judges and clerks serving at the last general election and other patriotic citizens will volunteer their services to the nation and state and co-operate with the City Clerk in the administration of this order, to the end, that the work may be accomplished with the least possible expense and also solicits the hearty and liberal co-operation of the patriotic press of the state in acquainting the public at large with the text of this proclamation and order.

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 25 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled. This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!
